

LOWE TO PRESENT
THE NEOSHO PLAN

Will Address Merchants and Business Men of Ocala at a Dinner Monday Night

Arrangements have been made by the Chamber of Commerce for an address here Monday night, June 26th, by Mr. Gurney R. Lowe, of Neosho, Mo. Mr. Lowe will present the Neosho Plan of co-operative advertising and merchandising to the merchants and business men of Ocala and Marion county. The address will be made at a dinner.

Mr. Lowe is making a tour of the territory covered by the Seaboard Air Line. He comes to Ocala under the auspices of the Seaboard Air Line. The Neosho Plan has proved most successful in many places throughout the country. Besides the Seaboard Air Line, it has been promoted by such railroads as the New York Central and the Central Railroad of Georgia. Mr. Lowe's plan has been favorably reported upon by the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The Seaboard Air Line is bringing Mr. Lowe to Ocala to present his plan and if the plan meets with the approval of the merchants and business men, he will arrange with them to remain for a day to work out the details.

The Neosho Plan includes what are called "Golden Rule Sales Days," public auctions at which the farmers especially can sell second-hand stock and live stock, automobile trade tours and co-operative advertising.

There will be a meeting of the merchants and business men at the Chamber of Commerce Monday morning, June 19th, to make arrangements for Mr. Lowe's coming.

BELLEVIEW

Belleview, June 14—Friends of Miss Mildred E. Baxter were happily surprised Saturday afternoon when her dad brought her down from Ocala to shake hands and say howdy to her many Belleview friends. Miss Baxter has just returned from school in Albion, Mich., where she has been specializing in voice, and she has proven that she is as smart as she is pretty by the fine marks mad eall during the term; in fact, the good average that she made all during the full school term eliminated the necessity of her taking any of the final exams.

With keen foresightedness Rev. W. E. Searles planned for his Methodist flock during his absence this summer. One of the special plans was for the mid-week prayer meeting each Wednesday evening, that it would not be blown clear out of existence by the strong vacation breezes. He therefore appointed an able prayer meeting committee, Messrs. F. F. Wendell, D. C. Stanley and L. Weihe. He then settled the music question by appointing a prayer meeting organist, to make the singing more joyful. Now Rev. Searles left three weeks ago but a favorable report can be sent to him that his plan was a success and is being carried out. For this Wednesday night the meeting is under the leadership of Miss Irma Bush Wendell and the subject to be spoken upon is "Prayer." If you haven't been coming to prayer meeting, take this as your invitation and fall in line.

Dr. and Mrs. P. T. McClellan were welcome visitors to Belleview last Monday afternoon. The doctor has recently purchased the drugstore up at Reddick and with his family expects to make that his future home.

Miss Hoyt Knight left last Monday for Reddick after a pleasant visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Shedd.

Miss Mittie McClelland came up from Jacksonville last Friday night to pay a visit to Mrs. I. I. Strong. Miss Mittie says she likes Jacksonville, that she has a fine music teacher and is devoting most of her time to this study and looking forward to the fall when the high school opens.

Word from Mrs. Clinton E. Martin of West McHenry, Ill., says that the roads have cleared and they have enjoyed a fine spring. The gardens are looking fine and the first lettuce is just coming in. She says that the 17-year locusts are paying that section of the country a visit and that the little fellows are said to bring a prediction with them upon each visit by an initial upon their wings, being either a P or a W, signifying peace or war. This time they are wearing a W. Some part of the world has to entertain this class of tourist. We hope, however, they will smoke the pipe of peace before coming to Florida and then change their minds and go to Muscle Shoals.

Dr. B. N. Tanner, one of Belleview's most public spirited citizens and his pleasant little wife are contemplating their regular summer visit with their

MURPHY WILL BE PRESSED BY MILTON

Eyes of Automobile World Turned Toward the Uniontown Contest This Afternoon

Uniontown, Pa., June 17.—(By the Associated Press).—Paced by Barney Oldfield, twelve of America's best known automobile racing pilots will get away at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the Uniontown Speedway in a 225-mile universal trophy race.

Jimmy Murphy, who won the 500-mile race at Indianapolis Memorial Day and who turned in the fastest lap in the qualifying races here yesterday, is the favorite. Murphy's time in the trials was 109 miles an hour. Tommy Milton qualified at 108 miles and a battle between the two is in prospect.

children, in Ohio, Illinois and Spartanburg, S. C. To keep in touch with their friends and home town Dr. Tanner says send me the old reliable, and forthwith puts down the real cash money to have the Ocala Star sent to them each and every week during their absence.

Mrs. Charles A. Tremere has received the sad news of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Louise N. Smith of Townsend, Ga. Mrs. Tremere has the sympathy of a host of friends in the loss of her aunt. Mrs. Smith was the mother of Mr. Bert Smith, who made his home with the Tremeres for several years and who has a host of friends here who sympathize with him in this hour of sorrow.

Captain C. A. Bradley and his road crew and state convicts are moving their headquarters from Lake Weir to Belleview and have selected a suitable location to camp near the baseball park.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freeman and Robert Jr. have returned to West Palm Beach. They were called to Belleview by the serious illness and death of Mr. Freeman's mother.

Mrs. Ora Meyer has returned from a business trip to Jacksonville.

The members of the Florida state road department who are assigned to road work in this district, Messrs. Hargrave, Cunningham, Young, McPherson and Beal, engineers and surveyors, are stopping at the Lake View House.

Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman

The sad news spread rapidly over the village Sunday morning when it was made known that Mrs. J. A. Freeman had passed away. The end was not unexpected as she had been very low for several days. However, her going cast a shadow over the entire community as she was one of Belleview's oldest citizens and well known and liked by a host of friends. Mrs. Freeman was born in North Carolina in 1862. She came to Florida with her parents in 1884 and settled at Lake Weir, where she met and married James A. Freeman and soon after moved to Belleview. Mrs. Freeman knew Belleview in its infancy, was acquainted with the founders and first law makers as a town and corporation and saw many of the first homes and public buildings erected. She was a member of the Belleview Workers, the oldest ladies' social and civic society in the town, and was always loyal to their cause.

The funeral services were held at the Belleview cemetery Monday afternoon and seldom has Belleview seen such a throng of mourners and sorrowing ones. Old men and women who seldom leave their homes trudged their way thru the hot afternoon sun to the cemetery to pay their last respects to her who had been called beyond. Children and young folks who had accepted of her kind hospitality and friendship came in numbers. Grown folks were there, and her relatives had gathered from far and near.

Mrs. Freeman was a member of the Christian church and the funeral services were in charge of Rev. C. H. Trout of Ocala. Rev. Trout's sermon was a wonderful message of comfort and went deep into the hearts of his listeners. Mrs. Hanson Hilton and Mrs. L. L. Hopkins sang sweetly "In His Love" and after the prayer the services were turned over to the Eastern Star Chapter No. 127 of which Mrs. Freeman was a charter member. This beautiful ceremony was impressively carried out in perfect order. Mrs. C. Edmond Armstrong in deep and touching contralto sang "Abide With Me." After the last rites were spoken and prayer was offered by Mrs. D. C. Stanley, chaplain of the order, the grave was closed.

Faithful friends lingered to arrange the abundant floral offerings. The grave was completely covered and the ground all around and in remembrance, the grave of her little daughter Janet, was covered with white flowers. At the head of the grave was a high standard supporting a friend-ship circle and bearing the assurance

SISLER LEADING IN TWO BIG LEAGUES

St. Louis First Baseman Holds Many Records for Superb Playing Over All Corners

Chicago, June 17.—(By Associated Press).—Writing baseball news this season has developed almost exclusively into writing about George Sisler, first baseman with the St. Louis Americans. Major league averages released today, including the games of Wednesday, show that Sisler not only leads the American League but his figures in most cases are better than those of any National League player.

He is first in batting in either league with an average of .443; first in runs scored in either league; first in total hits in either league; first in total bases gained in either league; first in triples in either league; first in stolen bases in either league; first in either league to make 100 hits this season. He is close to the top in doubles and home runs in the American League.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Parrish returned last night from St. Petersburg, where they have been attending the druggists' convention. They report a delightful stay in the Sunshine City, each minute of the time there being brim full of pleasure and entertainment, such as picnics, auto rides and banquets, with music and dancing thrown in. At a banquet at the Poinsettia hotel a novel feature occurred when Miss Helen Harkness became the bride of T. W. Harvey, both parties of Tampa. The wedding occurred just before the banquet, the dining room being decorated with roses and fern and with 360 visiting delegates in attendance, was a fitting setting for the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. D. S. Pooser.

Mrs. Todd is one of those who believe in seeing America first, and her trip through the western states will include all points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gerig have returned from St. Petersburg, where they attended the nineteenth annual convention of the Florida State Pharmaceutical Association. Ocala sent a strong delegation to the Sunshine City and made a determined effort to have the druggists designate Ocala as the 1923 convention city, but Eustis won out. However, Ocala was honored, in that Mr. Gerig was elected president of the association for the ensuing year.

Mrs. N. E. Carter, accompanied by her little granddaughter, Katherine Brinkley, spent yesterday in Ocala, en route to Tampa. They have been visiting a daughter of Mrs. Carter's, Mrs. F. E. Gianelloni at Bay St. Louis, Miss., for the past ten months. Mrs. Carter left today for Tampa, where she will be with her daughter, Mrs. Kate Brinkley.

of sympathy. The whole standard and circle were covered with green asparagus fern and white and pink flowers. This offering came from Ethel's Sunday school class, the Philaeas of the Baptist church. At the foot of the grave in the rich colors of the order stood the emblem of the Eastern Star, supported by a standard. The family had remarked that they hoped there would be flowers and there were flowers in abundance. Mrs. Freeman was a great lover of flowers and often during her long illness and confinement to her bed she would ask to see her rose garden and one of her sons would lift her in his arms and carry her to see the flowers.

Mrs. Freeman leaves a husband, two daughters, Mrs. Henry Smith and Miss Ethel Freeman, three sons, Robert, Zebbie and Roy and three grandchildren, besides many relatives and friends, all of whom have the assurance of much sympathy in their loss. C. V. Roberts & Company were the funeral directors in charge.

Her two sons, Merrill and Joe Wilcox, will enjoy a vacation spent fishing in the waters of the gulf.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peyser and granddaughter, Babette Peyser, expect to leave Monday for their new home in Miami. For the past twenty years Mr. and Mrs. Peyser and family have made Ocala their home and it is with regret that Ocala will lose this estimable family, and we only hope that after having lived in Ocala so long the tie will be so strong that they will decide to return often to visit their friends.

Among the Anthonyites in the city today were Mr. M. M. Blessing and son. CONTEMPT FOR THE LAW
IN FLAGLER COUNTY

Palatka, June 16.—County Commissioner S. R. Fields, of Flagler county, has left Bunnell, following the third attack made on him by strangers last Friday morning, and is now at the home of a brother-in-law at Loughman, according to a statement by officers of the state who arrived here today following a clue as to his attackers. The story told by the officers indicate that a determined effort has been made to rid the county of Commissioner Fields, and that he has finally decided he should leave. Mr. Fields succeeded George Moody as a member of the board of county commissioners, having been appointed by Governor Hardee. He was a newcomer to Bunnell when appointed, and since that time has been more or less in the public eye, twice before when he was taken out and beaten and on occasions when he appeared as plaintiff in injunction suits against the commissioners to prevent their deviating from a road contract, and to restrain the Dupont company from constructing a line of rail across lands controlled by the Bunnell Development company, of which he was manager.

But whether or not any of the business activities and opposition to movements set on foot in the county are responsible for the attacks made on him is not known. The men who have taken him out were strangers in the community, the last attack being made at 7:30 o'clock in the morning when citizens were going to their business, and was in front of the principal drug store of the city, and was witnessed by one of Mr. Fields' fellow commissioners. According to eye witnesses, among them being Commissioner Jordan, a clerk in the drug store, the postmaster and proprietor of the hotel, Mr. Fields, who was always accompanied by a body guard since his first attack, but who was alone at this particular time, was just entering his office when a strange man at the soda fountain, gulped a glass of coca-cola and sprang for Mr. Fields. Taken unawares, Mr. Fields was unable to defend himself and a second man hurried up from behind, struck the struggling commissioner over the head with a large calibre revolver and a third threw a heavy canvas blanket around him. The signal was given and a car further down the street hurried up and an effort was made to put Mr. Fields in it. He managed to prop his feet against the doorway, when a second blow on the head rendered him unconscious. Previous to being struck the second time he called to the young man in the drug store to come to his assistance, and not divining what was taking place, the clerk, who did not recognize Mr. Fields, started to assist the men in placing what he considered a drunk in the car. A forty-five calibre revolver in his stomach stopped him short.

The men drove hurriedly away, and a few minutes later Mr. Fields' body guard arrived and started in pursuit, but lost the fleeing men. In less than a half-hour a deputy sheriff, accompanied by ten or more cars, also started in pursuit and met Mr. Fields, weak from loss of blood and in a dazed condition, walking along the asphalt road near the Halifax club house in Volusia county. He was brought back to Bunnell and for two days it was feared that his skull was fractured. He was anxious to leave Bunnell at once, telling his friends that he had to be out of the county by sundown, but physicians would not permit him to be moved. Monday, however, he went to Loughman.

The talking machine which has been on display at the U-Serve Store No. 2 for some months, awaiting a claimant was claimed yesterday by Mr. S. M. Lummus, business manager of the Banner, who held the key that unlocked it. Keys of every description have been distributed for months to the customers of this institution, and they had all been exhausted when the lucky one turned up.

WILDCAT WARBLINGS

The Wildcats had a prosperous and progressive week's session this week. They played four games and won four games. On an average that is a pretty good percentage. Three of these four games were with fast teams and were hard games. The fourth game was not much work for the boys but they got a little practice out of it.

The ball association met last night and the present Wildcat team is practically assured of a full season's pay. Things looked good when those present unbosomed the line of pep they had in their systems.

Van Landingham and Leon will join the Wildcats in time for the games in Palatka Monday and Tuesday. Van has been playing with Perry in Lake City this week and Leon has been helping Leesburg beat the Pals. Both these infielders will be with the locals for the rest of the season.
